USDA RECOMMENDS AMENDING MILK ORDERS

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recommended amending 76 Federal milk marketing orders to adopt new provisions for pricing of milk entering a Federal order market or its supply system from other sources.

Officials said the "recommended decisions" offer new, substantially uniform provisions, which, if adopted, would apply both to unregulated milk distributed in the 76 Federal order markets, and milk already priced under another Federal order which later is sold in any one of the 76 markets.

The provisions recommended are based on evidence presented at three public hearings held Jan. 2, 8, and 14, 1963, at Arlington, Va., St. Louis, Mo., and Denver, Colo. The hearings were held to consider (continued to page 8)

US RULES ON FLORIDA MILK LAW

The United States supreme court January 6, in a unanimous decision, held that Florida's milk control law went too far in restricting out of state milk. The decision, written by Justice White, said that the restrictions were invalid because they amounted to a burden on interstate commerce and that Florida, in the sole interest of promoting the economic welfare of its dairy farmers could not insulate the Florida milk industry from competition from other states.

The regulations were challenged by the Polar Ice Cream & Creamery Co. of Pensacola. The firm said the plan of the Florida milk commission to require the company to purchase all milk offered by its Florida producers before buying out of state milk violated the Constitution.

This bulletin is primarily to provide producers who are not members of cooperative associations with market information in accordance with § 1039.74 of the Milwaukee Wisconsin marketing order, § 1045.75 of the Northeastern Wisconsin marketing order, and § 1051.77 of the Madison Wisconsin marketing order.

new methods of dealing with milk entering a Federal order market, in the light of the Supreme Court invalidation of a compensatory payment provision in the New York-New Jersey order. Similar compensatory payment provisions have been suspended by USDA from 58 of the orders covered by the decisions. The recommended provisions have been drawn to apply to all 76 orders, however, since all are involved with the pricing and pooling of milk from elsewhere which is sold inside of a Federal order marketing area

AMS explained that compensatory payments were sums of money paid into the producer-settlement fund of a market pool order by handlers who receive milk from unregulated sources.

As recommended, a distributor of unpriced milk sold on routes in an area covered by a Federal order with market pooling would be given the following options of:

1. Paying dairy farmers the class prices set by the order based on how the milk is to be used; or
2. Offsetting his in-area sales of Class I (bottling) milk by milk purchases in any Federal order where pooling is marketwide; or
3. Paying the difference between the bottling and uniform blend price of the order concerned, on his in-area sales.

Milk from unregulated plants received at fully regulated plants will be prorated to handler's overall use in the assignment to classes so long as this assignment would result in at least 80 percent of regulated milk being assigned to Class I. The receiving handler will be required to pay the difference between the bottling milk price and the uniform blend price of the order on the quantity assigned to fluid uses.

For route sales of milk made directly in a regulated market from a plant regulated by another order, the recommendations call for continuance of the practice now used in most of the markets, which involves no additional obligations, other than reporting the sales.

Exceptions to the recommendations may be filed with USDA up until 15 days after publication of the recommended decisions in the Federal Register. Five copies should be submitted to the Hearing Clerk, Room 112-A, U.S. Department of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. 20250.

Copies of the recommended decision may be obtained from the Market Administrator.
